

In Brief

Neuroblastoma UK Alliance

Families convened in London in November for the second annual parent medical conference hosted by the Neuroblastoma UK Alliance. CNCF's Pat Tallungan was unable to attend this year, but CNCF donated money to offset the cost of travel and expenses for attendants, who travel from as far away as The Netherlands. This year's conference drew 65 families. They heard from neuroblastoma researchers from around the world, including one from Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York.
